Auto Claims Without Attorneys

Synopsis

Auto Claims Without Attorneys is about redistributing money held by insurance companies to settle auto claims. The objective is to put a greater share of a larger recovery into your pockets. The redistribution of wealth is accomplished in three ways. First, understanding basic principles of liability, damages, and the claims process will help you provide the insurance adjuster with the information he or she needs to justify payment of a larger settlement. Second, eliminating payment of the attorney's contingent fee can save 30% to 40% of the recovery. Instead, you'll seek legal counsel in a limited strategic fashion, paying by the hour, if at all, as you go. Third, you can save even more of the recovery for yourself by reducing medical bills and other obligations which often need to be paid from the settlement proceeds.
